Fr. Richard Simon was ordained a priest for the Archdiocese of Chicago in 1975. He served in the Spanish speaking inner city of Chicago for the first 31 years of his ministry. He is now the pastor of St. St. Lambert's parish in Skokie, IL. He has been involved with the Charismatic Renewal since shortly after it's beginning in 1967 and served as Cardinal's liaison to the Spanish speaking charismatic prayer groups of the Chicago Archdiocese for 22 years. He also taught classical Greek and Latin at St. Joseph's College, the archdiocesan seminary for 24 years. He currently hosts the radio show, "Father Simon Says," and writes the blog "Rev. Know It All."
